

CHRISTMAS PUDDING BLISS BALLS

Christmas Pudding Bliss Balls

Yes crazy I'm actually doing a blog post with a new recipe – Christmas Pudding Bliss Balls! We're over here in the UK visiting with my Mum for Christmas. Must say a lot more of our traditional Christmas dishes make a lot more sense over here in the colder weather and somehow it DOES feel more Christmas-y. So here's a twist on the usual bliss balls for a bit of fun. They're a bit finicky but do look great.

You can make your own entirely with home made chocolate or take a short cut with bought chocolate that you melt at home.

Depending on size the recipe below makes about 12 balls.
